Narberth Flyer Given Air Medal

Lt. W. L. Robertson Received Award For Meritorious Service

Lieutenant (jg) William L. Robertson, 26 USNR, son of Mrs. William L. Robertson, of 101 Woodside Ave., Narberth, has been awarded the Air Medal for meritorious achievement while participating in aerial flights on anti-submarine patrol in the Bay of Biscay and the English Channel from January to May, 1945.

Presentation of the award was made in the name of the President by Captain E. R. DeLong, USN, commanding officer of a Fleet Air Wing with headquarters at a West Coast Naval Air Station. According to the citation accompanying the award, Lt. Robertson's skill, resourcefulness and cooperation contributed greatly to the effectiveness of his patrol missions, patrols of long duration were flown, often under adverse weather conditions, which materially assisted in the eventual defeat of the enemy U-boat campaign in the Battle of the Atlantic.

A veteran of 37 missions, Lt. Robertson was graduated from Cheltenham High School and the University of Pennsylvania. He received his commission in the Navy in April, 1943.

Rod and Gun Club Holds Fall Outing

Ernest Jenkins Is Second in Contest In Philadelphia

Mrs. Ellen A. Dietrich, of Upper Darby, and Henry A. Drum, of Brookline, were winners in the Class A and Class B, respectively, in the Plug Casting for Accuracy Contest of the Lower Merion Rod and Gun Club held on Sunday. Second place in Class A was Ernest E. Jenkins, of Narberth, and third place was Howell I. Dietrich, of Upper Darby. Second place in Class B was taken by Charles Spencer, of Manoa, and third place by Victor Sweet, of Ardmore.

Nathan Roberts, Upper Darby, topped the trap shooters with a score of 23 out of a possible 25, while Joseph P. White, Narberth, placed second with a total of 21, and V. Maxwell, of Philadelphia, placed third, hitting 20 bluebirds out of 25.

Bobby Fitzgerald was awarded his trophy for showing the greatest improvement during the past season.

Presbyterian Church Will Burn Mortgage

On Sunday morning at 11 A. M. the Narberth Presbyterian Church will burn its mortgage on the church plant which has cost over $150,000. The Rev. Bryant M. Kirkland, pastor of the church will preside at the ceremony, which will be a climax of 55 years of efforts of the thousands of members of the church. The church building includes a sanctuary, offices for the staff, parlors, class rooms for a completely graded Bible school, a gymnasium and is one of the finest in any Presbyterian church in the Philadelphia area, social rooms, dining facilities and shower rooms. During the past four years, $25,000 of the $75,000 mortgage to be burned has been contributed by the congregation. At the ceremony Ralph L. Rankin will ignite the mortgage after it is presented by A. E. Brown, church treasurer. Dr. John Van Ness, pastor emeritus, who initiated the building program in 1926, will offer a prayer of thanksgiving. Rally Day for the Church Bible School will take place on Sunday at 9:45 A. M., with Superintendent John C. Havlicek, presiding. All departments will assemble in the social hall with visiting parents. World Wide Communion and reception of new members will take place on Sunday, October 7. Preparatory service for this hour will occur on Wednesday, Oct. 3. Mrs. W. James Drennen, superintendent of the Junior Christian Endeavor, will graduate members of her society into the Senior group this Sunday at 6:45 P. M. Mr. and Mrs. Titus Strawhecker, sponsors of the older group, will welcome them. Reuel E. Johnson and his from-bone will be featured again at the Sunday Night Hour, 8 P. M., when the pastor will continue the sermon series on the Apostles' Creed—How Human was Jesus?

School Head Urges Smaller Classes

Asst. Supt. at L. M. Speaks to Narberth Parent-Teachers

Small classes in elementary schools were advocated Monday night by Dr. Philip U. Koopman, assistant superintendent of Lower Merion Township schools, in a talk before 100 members of the Narberth Parent-Teachers Association. Children learn at different speeds, Koopman pointed out, and should be grouped accordingly. Large classes may be less costly, but the children do not get the individual attention and help they should have to get the most out of class work.

Koopman was introduced by Richard L. Lehman, president of the Association. The meeting, first of the new school year, was held in the auditorium of the school, Essex and Sabine Aves., Narberth.

Tests, Dr. Koopman continued, should be used to help a child judge his own progress rather than for grading purposes. Testing to judge the work of one Continued on Page Two

Invite 25 Organizations To Cooperate In Planning For Recreation Center and Gym

Last Rites Held For Dr. W. Aull

Funeral services for the Rev. Wilson Aull, D. D., who died last week at Littleton, N. H., were held on Saturday in Philadelphia.

Dr. Aull was former assistant pastor of Bethany Collegiate Presbyterian Church and resided in the Montgomery Apts., Narberth. Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Nannie Aull; a son, Wilson, Jr., of New York City, and a daughter, Miss Harriet Overton Aull, now serving with the Red Cross in France.

Launch Fund Drive For Medical Corps

Narberth Volunteer Group's Ambulance Aided 110 People

The Narberth Volunteer Medical Service Corps has opened its campaign for funds for maintenance of the corps during the coming year.

The corps, which was organized in November, 1941, last year started its service of transporting persons to hospitals and from hospitals to their homes in an ambulance which is owned and operated by the corps.

During the past year 110 persons have availed themselves of this service and the corps has covered approximately 2,000 miles during that time. The longest trip which has been made by the corps ambulance was one recently made to Norfolk.

At the present there are 40 members of the corps, 11 of them in the armed services. Membership fees are $2 per year and covers an entire family.

Since its organization the corps has purchased an ambulance and during the past year they have added a portable stretcher and a combination red light and siren. It is hoped that during the coming year a resuscitator can be purchased.

24-Hour-A-Day Service

Operated on an entirely voluntary basis, the ambulance service is opened to Narberth and surrounding communities 24 hours a day. Through a connection with the physicians and surgeons telephone exchange the service is quickly available.

When the ambulance is out of town, the corps has access to an ambulance of the Lansdale Volunteer Medical Corps which may be used in an emergency.

All persons who are now members of the organization hold American Red Cross first aid certificates and can administer first aid when necessary.

Memorial Service For Lt. Rollins Held

Memorial services were held in the Narberth Presbyterian Church last Sunday for Lt. Ralph Kenneth Rollins in connection with the placing of his gold star on the church service flag.

Lt. Rollins was killed in action over Germany on January 1, 1945. Before his entry into service, where he made a commendable record, he was a teacher in the Bible School and a leader among the young people's group.

List Cabinet Meeting

There will be a Lion Club cabinet meeting of all deputy district governors and zone chairmen of the Overbrook, Bala-Cynwyd, Main Line, and Wayne Clubs at 8 P. M., October 4. The meeting will be held at the Haverford Court Hotel in Haverford.

Basketball Court and Auditorium To Be Included; Legion Has Pledged To Install Plaque

An architect's estimate on the cost of the recreation center building proposed as a war memorial in Narberth Borough will be given to representatives of community organizations at a meeting the latter part of October.

Announcement that plans were being made for the meeting came this week from the Narberth Borough Planning Commission, which was delegated by councilmen to study the project. Original proposal for the memorial was made by the Harold L. Speakman Post, American Legion, Narberth.

HERE AND THERE

by BETSY-ANN

Along Wynnewood Road between Woodside and Merion Aves., the Mahoney Construction Company has broken ground for several new homes on what is known as the Shortridge Estate. This past week those living nearby heard the sharp clip of the axe as trees were brought down—the noise of the steam shovel and the tractor as the ground was leveled off. Soon there will be new homes, and new neighbors along Wynnewood Road.

The United Service Club at 17th and Locust Sts. is soliciting donations of books for their library. Books on science, aeronautics and electricity; modern fiction, history, mystery stories and all recent magazines are in demand by the men in uniform. Also materials for the Center's "hobby room." These include classical records, symphonies and operas. Books on music, art and drama would be most acceptable.

Won't you look over your stock of the above books and records and drop off any you can spare to fill this worthy need?

Well, the children are all back at school, and again its "Kite" season and the good old pea shooter is again abroad. School supplies are much in demand—note books, tablets, pencils, erasers and school bags. Little boys, as well as big ones, want to play football this time of year, and must be outfitted with football shoes, pants, shoulder pads, helmets and last but not least, a football. Isn't it wonderful that all these articles can be found in our own "Village"?

New Books This Week—By Earl Schenck, "A Novel of the South Seas, from horse races to the scene of the crime, as well as a search for lost treasure on the island of Pinaki." "The Peacock Sheds His Tail"—by Alice Tisdale Hobart. A novel of International marriage with the scene laid in Mexico. In it the peacock sung about in ballads of the revolutionary soldiers becomes the symbol of outmoded luxury.

"Elizabeth Is Missing"—by Lillian De La Torre. The rich and lavish story of a four weeks disappearance of Elizabeth Canning, and eighteenth century mystery.

"Tansy Taniard"—by M. B. S. Strode-Jackson. An eventful romantic and historically authentic novel of England and France in the days of Queen Elizabeth. The story of Tansy Taniard and her handsome, ebullient, mysterious lover Rupert deBoscage, a cadet of the French house of Lorraine, braved cruelty, wit and lusty humor of the time.

Whipping Cream Is Now Available

With the government's rescinding of the ban against the sale of heavy cream, the Abbott Daries, which serve the suburban communities, are now able to offer heavy whipping cream to customers.

Tri-County Concerts

The Tri-County Concerts Association will open its fifth season of free concerts Wednesday evening, October 3, in the Radnor High School auditorium, Wayne, with a program by the Alberni Trio, composed of Alexander Schneider, violinist; Benar Helfetz, cellist; and Erich Hor Kahn, pianist, playing works by Brahms, Haydn, and Schubert.

11 Main Liners Get Discharges

Eleven servicemen from the Main Line received their honorable discharges from the Army during the past week.

Pfc. James P. McCaughey, Narberth. Pfc. Robert E. Almond, S. Ardmore. S/Sgt. Ernest Juliani, Bryn Mawr. Pfc. Charles E. Wilson, Ardmore. T/4 Fergus M. Mackie, Ardmore. T/4 James D. Winsor, III, Ardmore.

Seven servicemen from the Main Line have returned to the country during the past week for redeployment. They are: T/5 Otis Greenwood, Jr., Haverford. Sgt. John L. Thompson, Ardmore. Capt. Abraham B. Canfield, Jr., Wynnewood.

1st Sgt. Samuel S. Link, Bryn Mawr. Capt. William H. Hough, III, Cynwyd. Pvt. Jack B. Records, 107 Dudley Ave., Narberth.

Capt. Frank C. Price, Ardmore. Other Main Line servicemen who have returned to the country during the past week are: R. J. Andrew Wilson, Bryn Mawr. Pfc. Raymond J. Reimers, Bryn Mawr. Sgt. Richard A. Talone, Ardmore. T/4 James P. Coll, Bryn Mawr.

School Boy Tiff

Jules Prevost, Jr., 11, 311 Lancaster Ave., Wayne, was treated at Bryn Mawr Hospital for a sprained thumb last Thursday afternoon. The thumb injury occurred when he swung his school books suspended from a strap, at a chum.

School Attendance

At the September meeting of the Lower Merion School Board it was reported that 75 students attended the Summer school at the senior high school and 234 attended the school in the two junior high schools.

Break Street Lamps

Wynnewood residents reported trouble with juvenile pranksters last Thursday. They broke street lamps and uprooted household name signs.

Narberth Legion To Finish Records

Information on 59 Servicemen Wanted By Group

Members of the Honor Roll committee of the Harold D. Speakman Post, No. 356, of Narberth, will be in the Legion rooms, Community Building on Tuesday evening, October 1, from 7 to 9 o'clock for the purpose of completing the service records of World War II veterans, which was begun two years ago.

Members of the families of service men and women who may not have received forms for these records, or who desire to complete the earlier records are urged to call at the Legion rooms that evening. Other evenings of this purpose will be announced later.

The Legion upon completion of these records will present them to the Narberth Library for permanent historical reference.

In explaining the Legion's efforts to obtain an accurate list, D. C. Miner, of the honor roll committee, said, "The Legion's honor roll committee has the name of 59 veterans now listed on the temporary honor roll on Sheet No. 1. These names were originally obtained from draft registrations. The following is the list of the 59 names about which information is sought:

Assigned to Penn As Naval Instructor

Commander Leonard S. Bailey, U.S.N.R., an alumnus of the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce, has been assigned to the University of Pennsylvania as executive officer of naval training units at the University.

Commander Bailey, whose home is at 617 Highland Ave., Merion, has been on active service with the Navy since 1940 and has participated in five major engagements. He was in command of a destroyer escort division.

Chas. A. Pennypacker

Major Charles A. Pennypacker, of Ardmore, has been assigned as the personal physician of General Jonathan M. Wainwright for the duration of the General's stay at his home in Skaneateles, New York.

Practicing in Ardmore for six years, Major Pennypacker received his commission in the U. S. Army Medical Corps in November, 1942. Until recently, he was the assistant chief of medical service at the Rhoades General Hospital, Utica, N. Y.

GET HEP TO TREND OF TIMES:

Ostrich Attitude Won't Help In L. M. Sports

Due to the complexity of the sports situation at Lower Merion, we asked Herb Good, of The Philadelphia Record, for an analysis. In addition to being a recognized authority on school sports, Good is a resident of Ardmore and keenly interested in athletics at the local school.

THE EDITOR.

By HERB GOOD

Study of the reports of F. A. Dubois and George Gilbert on the athletic problems at Lower Merion High School shows no cause for wild hysteria. Lower Merion's difficulties are similar to those at many other schools throughout the suburbs and state and are largely the result of the trend of the times.

And I'm quite convinced the answers simply boil down to this:

1. Extra pay for coaches is essential if the schools hope to keep the present high calibre type of coach at his job.

2. Direction of athletics should be in the hands of a person trained for and with a background for the job; preferably one who has a flair for promotion and who has the personality to generate and inspire school spirit.

3. Schools must recognize that they are competing with colleges, other high schools, professional and independent teams for patronage and that a certain amount of professional-type promotion is necessary to meet it.

4. Membership in a small compact league of near-by natural rivals who hold similar athletic ideals is vital.

Let's take up the first problem—extra pay for coaches. I have great admiration and respect for Dr. Dubois so I wasn't prepared for the reactionary thinking evidenced in his report. I was astounded to find that he believes pay to coaches would lose the coaches the respect of their pupils! That's the kind of talk we used to hear in the pioneer days of the Newspaper Guild. It's the kind of thinking that forces men into unions for their own protection, that steels them into taking drastic steps.

I can appreciate the problems created by paying coaches. Where's the money to come from? How's it to be distributed?, etc.

But surely anyone with any knowledge of the facts at all must concede that the coaches have a good, sound argument.

To qualify as a coach one must not only be highly proficient in one or two sports, but must also be able to teach one or more regular subjects. In other words he's a two-job man hired at the pay of one. He does the same classroom work as any other teacher, then goes out and spends an additional two or three hours on the athletic field and in the gym. And there's no way of estimating the additional hours of home work and mental anguish that go with the job.

There shouldn't be any question or dispute about the coach's right to extra pay. It's very clear and to the point

NOTICE TO SHAREHOLDERS

NATIONAL BANK OF NARBERTH
You are hereby notified that, on November 1st, 1945, at 3 o'clock P. M., pursuant to action of the Board of Directors, a meeting of shareholders of this bank will be held at its banking house in Narberth, Penna., to consider and vote upon the following proposals, and matters incidental thereto which properly may come before said meeting:

1. To consider a form of shareholders' resolution which has been received from the Controller of the Currency, and which may be examined at the bank, at any time during office hours prior to the aforesaid meeting. That form of resolution provides for:

(a) An increase of the common stock of the bank from $50,000 to $75,000 by the declaration of a $25,000 stock dividend under the applicable provisions of Section 542 of the Revised Statutes as amended. The shareholders of the bank will be entitled to participate in the distribution of that dividend, pro rata, in accordance with their respective holdings of common stock of the bank in round lots, the par value of the stock being $10.00 per share.

(b) Completely revised articles of association for the bank which will provide, among other things, for a sliding scale of from five to twenty-five directors for the bank, the present limit fixed by law; for the capital changes; and for a reamendment of at least ten days, by mail, in call capital and, in some instances, amend the articles of association of shareholders. The adoption of completely revised articles of association is suggested in order that the bank may have all of its effective articles reflected in one document.

Lt. B. J. Smolens Gets

Internment as Reward

For 3rd Bombing Try

Lt. Bernard J. Smolens, a B-17 bombardier, of 296 Sycamore Ave., Merion, isn't so sure about the school that can come from adhering to the old adage about if not successful at first, try again. To make a bombing run on Berlin, while the trip shooting was held at the Nash Farm in Penn Valley when the weather was cleared.

Following the casting and shooting events, a buffet supper including corn on the cob, sauerkraut and frankfurters was served by Mrs. Helen Barth, of Manoa, and Mrs. Dietrich.

Before going to the Lower Merion country club, the Lower Merion casters went to Fairmount Park where they participated in a Plug Accuracy Contest and in "Skish," a variation of plug accuracy, at the annual Fall tournament of the Dover Fishing Club of Philadelphia.

Jenkins placed second in both events, being topped only by Samuel Weitz, of Philadelphia. This was Jenkins' first attempt at "Skish" in which he totaled 66 points. In plug accuracy at the Dover meet, Jenkins' total was 98 against a score of 100 made by Weitz.

School Head Urges

child in comparison with that of another is bad for the emotional security of the child. By the time the child has reached high school, however, he said, testing must necessarily be used for grading purposes. By this time, it should do no harm, since the child should have developed a degree of emotional stability.

As far as the relationship between the school and the child in matters of health is concerned, Dr. Koopman expressed the opinion that the school can do little more than to guide the pupils into better health habits and let them know if they have a physical disability which should be corrected.

Morally, the educator declared, the elementary school has a definite part to play in helping pupils to develop a strong moral integrity and singleness of purpose.

When the child reaches secondary school are that is, high school—the standards should be more demanding and the student should develop an understanding of the relationship between his purposes and resultant actions.

Rev. Carl F. Hammerly gave the invocation and a brief business session preceded Dr. Koopman's talk. Mrs. William E. Clear, Jr., the secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting, and F. T. Frankendorf, treasurer, read his report. Two violin selections were played by Catherine Blum, 337 Meeting House lane, an eighth grade pupil. W. J. Drennon, principal of the school, introduced the faculty members, giving a brief personal history of each.

The evening closed with refreshments served in the school cafeteria by Mrs. A. Gardiner Dean and her hospitality committee.

Ostrich Attitude

in the school law of this state. Section 12 of House Bill 568 reads:

"Professional employees who are required to perform additional assigned work, or who are required to serve beyond the regular school term shall be compensated proportionately."

If the schools ignore this law it will result in most coaches either taking jobs elsewhere or refusing to coach altogether and probably will inspire the organization of coaches unions in order to protect and raise the standards of the profession.

Now let's take up the other problems,—the change of policy in doing away with the position of athletic director and the embarrassing financial situation of the A. A. which has necessitated slices in the athletic budget for the current school term.

I agree with the PIAA's contention that athletics must be under control of the principal, which means that he should keep a strict eye on the eligibility lists and be responsible for the general conduct of athletics at his school. But I am quite sure that the PIAA does not expect the principal to replace the athletic director.

Perhaps Mr. Gilbert and Vince Pearce, whom I know to be sympathetic toward athletics and who desire winning teams as much as anyone else, are well qualified to be the directors of athletics.

But the blunt truth is that a great majority of principals aren't qualified anymore than a coach is qualified to direct the music or science departments. Furthermore, I'd think they had enough to do—just being principal.

However, it doesn't look as if the principals at L. M.

are going to attempt to absorb all the details that an athletic director usually handles — schedule making, arrangements for staging games and hiring of officials, etc. Apparently it is going to be up to each coach to run his own show, which may or may not be a good thing. Personally, I have a hunch it'll give 'em more reason than ever to want more dough.

The attempt to try something new is understandable. Considering the success Lower Merion has had in athletics it doesn't make sense that athletics have been going into the red. There's been something wrong somewhere. Many schools have made out financially without the post-season basketball income that has been L. M.'s good fortune to realize in the past.

You can't argue with Mr. Gilbert's contention that because the A. A. went $2000 in the red last year that new income must be secured to meet normal expenses—or else cut the expenses.

I believe athletics at Lower Merion, Haverford and most suburban schools have been conducted on a sane, desirable basis, but at the same time I fear that school officials too often lean over backwards to avoid looking the athletic-facts-of-life in the face.

Take the fear of professionalism, which Dr. Dubois raises in his report. This is an old school bugaboo. Yet a school professionalizes a sport the moment it starts taking your 50 cents for admission. So why should there be any reluctance for the logical follow through—the "selling" of the sport to the student body, alumni and general public?

The trouble is most schools either don't know how to go about it, or are afraid to take the proper steps for fear of being criticized or, oh, well, you know the way it is!

Funeral Services Held For W. G. Casner

Services for William G. Casner, a teacher at Central High School for 30 years until his retirement in 1931, was held at 3 P. M. Wednesday, with burial in Fernwood Mausoleum.

Mr. Casner, who was 84, died Friday at his home, 303 S. Narberth Ave., Narberth, after an illness of more than six months.

A native of Philadelphia, Mr. Casner was educated in the public schools here and attended Spring Garden Institute, the Academy of Fine Arts, and the Pennsylvania Museum and School of Industrial Arts.

He joined the faculty of Central

High School in 1901, and was head of its art department when he retired. He was a member of Holy Apostles Church for 70 years, and was former senior warden.

Mr. and Mrs. Casner celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary in August. In addition to his wife, Rebecca A., he is survived by a grandson, Lieutenant Horace A. Casner, of Lansdowne, who was a prisoner of the Germans for three and a half years, and who recently returned home.

Issue 200 Warning Tickets for Parking Without Night Lights

Cars parked on Lower Merion streets at night must show parking lights, front and rear.

The Lower Merion police last Tuesday night started to enforce again this State traffic law—which was ignored during the war due to blackouts.

According to Police Lt. Andrew McLaughlin, there will be four tickets issued for violations. The first three tickets will serve as warnings and the fourth ticket will be followed by a summons. The charges for violating the law are $2 and costs.

According to the police lieutenant, 200 tickets have been given out but no summons issued.

The ropes of a ship are called its rigging. The wire rope supporting the cross bars (spars) is called standing rigging, the hemp rope used in trimming sails is known as running rigging.
